GSA Declassification&Release Instructions In ERU File - No Referral To GSA

SEP 21 1976

Mr. Clifford D. May, Jr.
Deputy Director of Joint Computer Support
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Mr. May:

As you may recall from the Interagency Committee on ADP conference at Airlie House earlier this year, the exchange and sharing of software was considered to be one of the greatest unmet needs among Federal ADP units. Since publication of the FPMR for the Federal Software Exchange Program on February 25, 1976, the Federal Software Exchange Center has received approximately 300 abstracts toward the development of the Federal Software Exchange Catalog. In order to meet our target publication date of January 1977, all Forms 185 describing software that you would like to see in the first catalog, must be received by October 15, 1976. Those forms received after this date will be processed for inclusion in subsequent addenda.

Please spread the word as rapidly as possible among the ADP installations in your agency to promote the publication of as much common use software as possible in the first edition of the catalog. I look forward to your cooperative participation in this new program.
